The Department of Politics and International Relations at Mount Allison University invites applications for a 4 month, full-time sessional position at the rank of Lecturer or Assistant Professor beginning January 3rd and ending April 30th 2019, subject to budgetary approval. The teaching requirement will be three courses:

- POLS-2221-A Introduction to Comparative Politics (3 credits)
- INLR/POLS-2301-A Introduction to International Relations  (3 credits)
- Plus one of the following:
  - INLR-3201 Problems in International Development (3 Credits)
  - POLS-3341 Security Studies (3 Credits)
  - A 3-credit third year course of their choosing in either the field of International Politics or Comparative Politics.

Preference will be given to applicants with a PhD in political science and teaching experience in the relevant subfields.

Candidates should send by email a letter of application, a current curriculum vitae, and 3 letters of references to:

Dr. James Devine
Email: jtdevine@mta.ca
Chair of the Search Committee
Department of Politics and International Relations
144 Main Street
Mount Allison University
Sackville, New Brunswick
E4L 1A7

Consideration of applications will begin on November 1, 2018.

Mount Allison acknowledges, honours, and respects that the land named Sackville, NB is part of the unceded territory of the Mi’kmaq People who are the historic inhabitants, custodians, and dwellers on the land where our University is built and confirms its commitment to strengthening relationships with all Indigenous people.

Mount Allison is committed to diversity and inclusiveness. We encourage applications from members of racialized communities, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, and persons of all sexual and gender identities. We seek candidates with qualifications and knowledge to contribute specifically to the further diversification of our campus community.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents are given priority. Canadians and permanent residents should indicate their citizenship status in their application.