The Department of Sociology at Mount Allison University invites applications for a full-time nine-month sessional position, subject to budgetary approval. The appointments will be made at the rank of Lecturer or Assistant Professor and will commence on August 1, 2019. Candidates should possess a PhD in Sociology or be nearing completion, and have a record of research and undergraduate teaching. The department is seeking sociologists with a broad sense of the discipline who will teach five courses (3/2), one of which is Qualitative Research Methods. The department has a commitment to the use of innovative instructional pedagogy, and encourages faculty members to play an active role in the operation of the department.

An application should include a covering letter, curriculum vitae and the names of three referees, and should be sent electronically or hard copy to:

Dr. Erin Steuter
Chair of the Search Committee

Review of applications will begin March 15, 2019 and will continue until the positions are filled.

Mount Allison acknowledges, honours, and respects that the land named Sackville, NB is part of the unceded territory of the Mi’kmaq People who are the historic inhabitants, custodians, and dwellers on the land where our University is built and confirms its commitment to strengthening relationships with all Indigenous people.

Mount Allison is committed to diversity and inclusiveness. We encourage applications from members of racialized communities, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, and persons of all sexual and gender identities. We seek candidates with qualifications and knowledge to contribute specifically to the further diversification of our campus community.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents are given priority. Canadians and permanent residents should indicate their citizenship status in their application.
