

The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science at Mount Allison University invites applications to teach Theory of Computation (COMP/MATH 4631) in the winter 2019 term. This is a stipendiary (part-time) appointment to be offered during the day at Mount Allison in Sackville. Classes have 3 contact hours per week. Anticipated enrolment is 10-15 students. Course descriptions can be viewed at www.mta.ca/calendar. The successful applicant has a M.Sc. in Computer Science, Mathematics, or a related area, with a Ph.D. preferred.

Mount Allison University, located in Sackville, New Brunswick, Canada is a small primarily undergraduate university offering small classes and a residential experience to a diverse student population. It is consistently ranked as one of the best undergraduate universities in Canada and promotes research and teaching excellence.

Applications (electronic pdf document preferred), including a cover letter and curriculum vitae (with names and contact information of references), should be addressed to:

Dr. Geoffrey Cruttwell, Chair of the Part-time search committee
Mathematics & Computer Science Department
67 York Street
Mount Allison University
Sackville, New Brunswick E4L 1E6
Phone: 506-364-2533
E-mail: math@mta.ca

Review of applications will begin May 11, 2018, and continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science at Mount Allison University invites applications to teach Real Analysis 1 (MATH 3111). This is a stipendiary (part-time) appointment to be offered during the day at Mount Allison in Sackville. Classes have 3 scheduled contact (lecture) hours per week scheduled on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday during the Fall term. Anticipated enrolment is 25 students. Course descriptions can be viewed at www.mta.ca/calendar.

Mount Allison University is a highly rated, primarily undergraduate institution with active and diverse research programs involving undergraduate students in Mathematics and Computer Science. The successful applicant has a M.Sc. in Mathematics, Computer Science or a related area, with a Ph.D. preferred.

Applications (electronic pdf document preferred), including a curriculum vitae (with names and contact information of references), should be addressed to:

Dr. Andrew Irwin, Chair of the Part-time search committee
Mathematics & Computer Science Department
67 York Street
Mount Allison University
Sackville, New Brunswick E4L 1E6
Phone: 506-364-2530
E-mail: math@mta.ca

Review of applications will begin March 1, 2015 and continue until the position is filled.